Sandi:

Sorry for the delayed response – I was on vacation for the past week.

Since there was a hearing earlier this year, I have been asked by the client to wait for the final hearing outcome before proceeding with this year's study. This is because we may need to make some changes to the questionnaire based on how the survey was evaluated in the final ruling. The final ruling was originally scheduled to be released on June 30, but has been pushed back and we are now expecting to get a final determination sometime in August. Assuming a favorable outcome, we would then start trying to move forward ASAP to get the study rolling. In any event, at this point I expect that it will be at least mid-September before we have anything for you to start working with – and most likely later than that.

I will try to update you with a better timetable once we receive the ruling and have a better idea of what process will be needed to get into the field.

Jim

Hi Jim and Brian,

I hope this finds you both doing well.

I was wondering when the next wave of the Cable Operator Study might begin.

Just trying to figure out the timing for the rest of the summer.

Thanks,
Sandi
